About the TaiwanICDF

The International Cooperation and Development Fund (TaiwanICDF) is dedicated to boosting socio-economic development, enhancing human resources and promoting economic relations in a range of developing partner countries. We also offer humanitarian assistance and provide aid in the event of natural disasters or international refugee crises.

To carry out our mission, we offer a range of assistance that centers on four core operations: lending and investment, technical cooperation, humanitarian assistance, and international education and training. Our Fund is used to make direct or indirect investments and to finance lending operations. Revenues generated by the Fund are used to support our bilateral or multilateral technical cooperation projects, humanitarian assistance operations and education and training.

Every new project from the TaiwanICDF proceeds according to a rigorous project cycle and is backed by mutual covenants signed in cooperation with relevant stakeholders. Our projects are designed to address the strategic development goals of each of our partner countries, pay due consideration to associated regional trends, and maximize results by employing the right combination of capital and technical cooperation.

Ultimately, our work is tailor-made to the local needs of each partner country. Our assistance covers a variety of contemporary development issues such as environmental protection, public health, agriculture, education, and information and communications technology.

We are also acting to improve human resources and build institutional capacity at the TaiwanICDF itself. We believe that as a stronger, more professional organization, we will be better placed to advise decision-making bodies within our government. Efforts to improve our own organization will also help us to deepen the coverage of our projects and transfer technological know-how to our partners. We aspire to making the most effective use of manpower and resources, and replicating and adapting successful experiences from one partner country to another.

Overview of the International Higher Education Scholarship Program

International education and training from the TaiwanICDF shares Taiwan's own development experiences with developing partner countries around the world. Our aim is to help these partner countries cultivate and nurture a talented pool of human resources.

To achieve this objective, our International Education and Training Department performs a range of interconnected operations. Our in-depth, professional workshops are dedicated to contemporary trends in development, while our higher education scholarship program draws on expertise at Taiwanese universities to strengthen know-how in critical disciplines. We also cooperate with a number of international organizations on training projects.

Our International Higher Education Scholarship Program was initiated in 1998 when we joined forces with a group of Taiwanese universities to offer scholarships for a number of English-language courses, up to and including Ph.D. level.

The program enables talented young citizens to come to Taiwan to pursue their higher education and follow course materials and learning objectives that are specifically designed to address key development issues. The program provides full financial support for tuition and living expenses, and having grown in scope over the years, now covers 35 courses from 21 universities — 11 bachelor's, 21 master's and 3 Ph.D. programs. These courses focus on the development needs of our partner countries by addressing issues such as tropical agriculture, aquatic sciences, business administration, information technology, human resource development, medicine and public health, or various fields of engineering. All of these disciplines are in high demand in our developing partner countries. We aim to boost social development and economic growth by generating a pool of quality human resources.

TaiwanICDF Scholarship Application Instructions

1. Eligibility

Applicants applying for a TaiwanICDF scholarship must meet both the general eligibility criteria (please refer to appendix 1) and be a national of a country on the List of Countries Eligible for TaiwanICDF Scholarship (please refer to appendix 2). Applicants must also meet the Regulations Governing Visiting, Resident, and Permanent Residency of Aliens set by ROC (Taiwan) National Immigration Agency.

Please Note: All Undergraduate Programs only accept applications submitted by citizens of allied countries of ROC (Taiwan).

2. Application Procedure

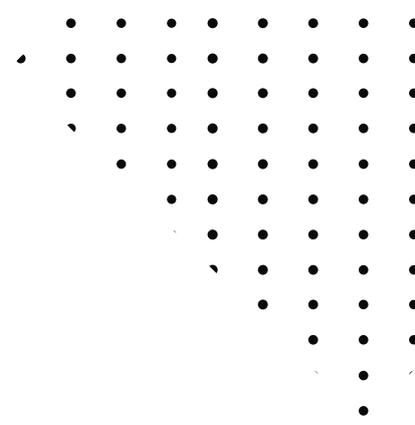

The 2019 TaiwanICDF Scholarship application period will run from January 1 to March 15 (GMT +08:00). For the 2019 TaiwanICDF International Higher Education Scholarship Program, there are a total of 31 study programs available for scholarship application.

Applicants should: (1) complete the TaiwanICDF International Higher Education Scholarship Program Online Application, and (2) submit the documents listed below to the ROC (Taiwan) Embassy/Consulate General/Representative Office in their country. Applicants must ensure that they submit accurate and complete documentation; failure to do so will result in the application not being processed. Please also note: (1) Late submissions will not be accepted and/or processed; (2) All Undergraduate Programs only accept applications submitted by citizens of allied countries of ROC (Taiwan).

Documents to be submitted:

- (1) A photocopy of applicant's passport or other document showing proof of nationality.
- (2) A photocopy of applicant's highest-level diploma and academic transcripts.
- (3) A photocopy of applicant's English proficiency certificate.

Please note: This means a TOEFL test score or that of another recognized English proficiency exam, or documents certifying that the applicant has graduated from a program where all courses were taught in English. Applicants who are unable to provide such proof of English proficiency due to special circumstances may be assessed for English proficiency by an ROC (Taiwan) Embassy/Consulate (General)/Representative Office via interview or other forms of testing. Applicants whose official national language is English are exempt from needing to supply these documents.

(4) Two letters of reference.

- (5) Any other documents specifically requested by an ROC (Taiwan) Embassy/ Consulate (General)/ Representative Office.

Please Note: In addition to the above documents requested as part of their scholarship application, applicants should also submit all documents required by the TaiwanICDF partner university that they are applying to before the admission deadline of that university. For detailed information on such documents, please refer to Section 4: Study Programs Available for TaiwanICDF Scholarship Application at Partner Universities in 2019 in this brochure and the related websites of each study program for further admission information.

The ROC (Taiwan) Embassy/Consulate General/Representative Office will conduct a first review of applicants based on the eligibility requirements and selection criteria of the TaiwanICDF, and then submit their list of recommended applicants to the TaiwanICDF no later than March 31 each year.

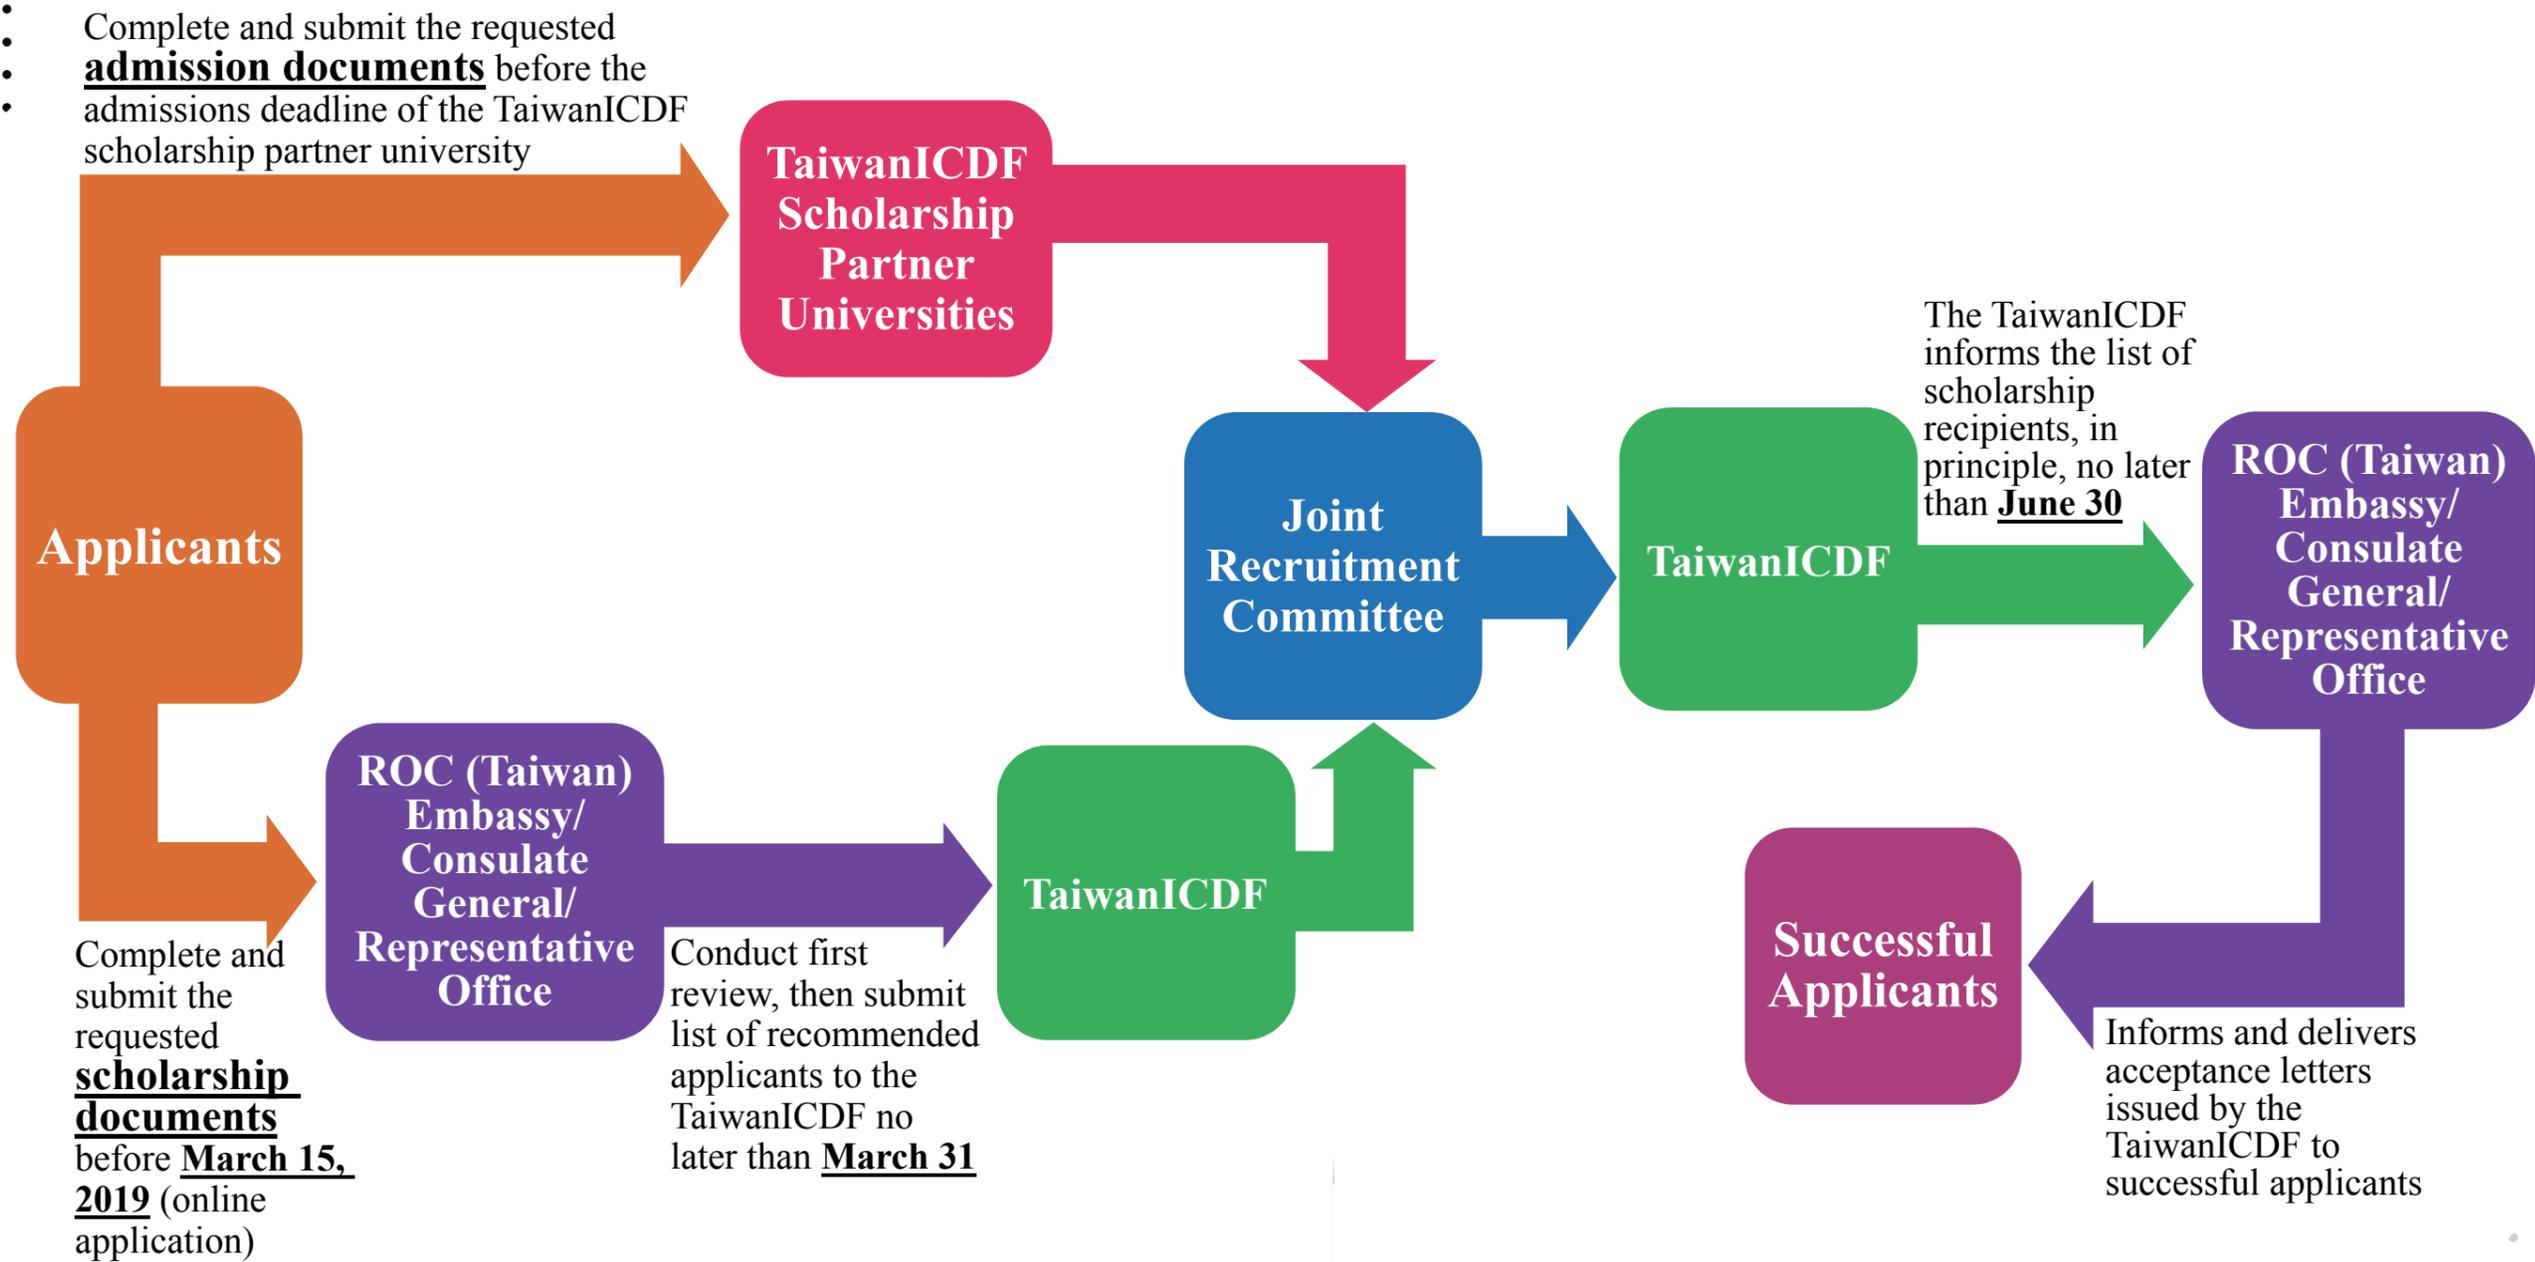

A second review of the qualified applicants will be conducted by an academic committee organized by the individual partner university in joint cooperation with TaiwanICDF representatives. Such reviews will be based on each university's selection criteria, whilst also accounting for the eligibility requirements and selection criteria of the TaiwanICDF.

After the second review has been conducted in cooperation with all partner universities, the TaiwanICDF will announce its list of scholarship recipients, in principle, no later than June 30 each year. Successful applicants will receive an acceptance letter through the ROC (Taiwan) Embassy/Consulate (General)/ Representative Office to whom they originally applied.

Please note: Gaining admission from the university does not necessarily mean that the applicant has also been given a TaiwanICDF scholarship. Only the applicant who receives the acceptance letter issued by the TaiwanICDF is the scholarship recipient.

Undergraduate Program in Tropical Agriculture

▲ ABOUT THE PROGRAM

Courses in fields of tropical agriculture, including agronomy, horticulture, animal science, aquaculture, veterinary medicine, food science, agribusiness, and plant production are offered for this undergraduate program. Students must complete a total of 130 credits hours (including required credits and elective credits) to graduate with the “Bachelor of Science”. For elective credits, students can choose courses freely in all fields according to their personal interests and availability of courses, and acquire general and diversified knowledge in agriculture. However, if a major is desired, the department currently offers two majors, “Animal Production” and “Plant Production”.

Students must complete more than 70% elective credits in the same major, either “Animal Production” or “Plant Production”, so that the major can be specified on the graduate certificate. In plant production, the courses include but are not limited to: agronomic and horticultural crop production; plant protection; and agri-business management. In animal production, the courses include but are not limited to: anatomy and physiology of animals; utilization of animal products; fish breeding and propagation; and pond management.

English Ability Examination: Students must pass a minimum of TOEFL ITP score 500 or equivalent English-proficiency verifications before graduate (Except for foreign students from English speaking countries).

After completion of all required courses and English Ability Examination, the students will receive the “Bachelor of Science” degree from the Department of Tropical Agriculture and International Cooperation, International College with or without a major.

▲ ENTRY REQUIREMENTS

1. Completion of a Senior high school or vocational high school education, or the equivalent, from institutions approved by the Ministry of Education, Taiwan (ROC).
2. Applicants from countries where English is not the native language are required to take the TOEFL or equivalent English-proficiency verifications.

National Chengchi University

International Master of Business Administration (IMBA)

▲ ABOUT THE PROGRAM

The International MBA (IMBA) program offered by National Chengchi University (NCCU) has dual accreditations by the Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business (AACSB) and the European Quality Improvement System (EQUIS), a key indicator of our quality resources in business education. In 2018, National Chengchi University has been selected as full membership for the Partnership in International Management (PIM) alliance, which symbolizes that the internationalization of NCCU has been on par with top business schools around the world.

The IMBA program is designed to develop qualified candidates to be leaders in the field of international business, with a special focus on the Asia-Pacific region. With the continued growth of Asia's emerging economies and the expansion of firms on a global scale, the NCCU IMBA offers the perfect venue for international candidates to learn about Asian economies.

The IMBA program requires a minimum of 42 credits to graduate. Required courses account for 25 credits, including Accounting, Business Quantitative Methods, Corporate Social Responsibility and Ethics, Financial Management, Leaders Forum, Leadership and Team Building, Managerial Economics, Management Information Systems, Marketing Management and Strategic Management. The elective courses fall under four areas of concentration: Entrepreneurship, Finance, Management in Asia and Marketing. Students have the option of taking the required number of courses to achieve a concentration or take courses across concentrations to graduate with a General MBA.

The IMBA program provides an optimal international and multicultural learning environment by maintaining balance between Taiwanese and international students admitted to the program. The international students represent professionals from over 35 countries in five continents. They are guided by our faculty base comprised of academics and industry experts in Taiwan and from around the world.

The IMBA faculty come from three equally qualified pools of local and international talent. A third of the instructors hail from faculty members of the College of Commerce at National Chengchi University (NCCUC), most of whom have earned Ph.Ds from prestigious universities around the world. Another third of the faculty represent renowned scholars from top overseas business schools as visiting instructors and a final third of the faculty are comprised of industry senior executives who have long standing real-world business experience.

The international aspects of each and every area of the IMBA, including the courses, student body, and faculty, make this program truly unique. What further differentiates the IMBA from other MBA programs is the expertise integrated in the special Asian featured courses that we provide under the Management in Asia concentration. Aside from developing a global view in world business trends, it is just as essential to gain an Asian perspective of business. Our program is the perfect conduit for learning all about this growing region.

Optional Essay

Please include any other information that you believe would be helpful to the Admissions Committee in considering your application. (250 words maximum)

3. Two recommendation letters

Two recommendations are required and should be completed by individuals who are well acquainted with you and your managerial capabilities. Preferably, they should be completed by employers or supervisors. You are advised to request recommendations well in advance of the application deadline to ensure your application package is complete when submitted.

As part of the online application process you will be asked to provide email addresses for your recommenders; the system will then send them a link they can use to access the system and fill the recommendation letter online or upload a letter of their own.

4. Official transcripts from each college/university attended

5. A copy of most recent university/college diploma

We require one copy of your transcript and one copy of the diploma or other documentation indicating the date and conferral of your degree. If the original language of the academic record and diploma is not English or Chinese, a certified English translation must accompany original documents. Official copies of credentials must be certified by a school administrative officer from whom the degree was received.

6. Evidence of English Proficiency

We ask all applicants to provide their Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) score or other evidence of English proficiency (other test scores, i.e. IELTS, TOEIC, etc.) if their native language is not English.

If you hold a degree from an English speaking country or a program taught in English, you do not have to submit the evidence of English proficiency. Please mark the check box “I do not need an English Proficiency test score” in the online system.

7. Evidence of Management Study Aptitude

The Graduate Management Admissions Test (GMAT) is not a requirement for admittance to the program. Applicants are however strongly advised to take the test and submit their scores as additional support to their application. GMAT is administered by the Educational Testing Service (ETS) in the USA as evidence of management aptitude. The GMAT can be forwarded through National Chengchi University’s GMAT code 9993. Include a photocopy of the score report in your application package. For more information or to request that your scores be sent to us, contact the GMAT, Educational Testing Service, P.O. Box 6103, Princeton, NJ 08541-6103, USA, or visit the GMAT web site at <http://www.gmac.com>
Please allow 3-4 weeks for our office to receive your scores from ETS.

8. Proof of Nationality (e.g. passport)

National Tsing Hua University

International Master Program in Information Systems and Applications

▲ ABOUT THE PROGRAM

National Tsing Hua University is located next to the Industry Technology Research Institute (ITRI) and Hsinchu Science and Industrial Park. Within an hour driving, you can reach the Hsinchu Industrial District, Chu Nan Industrial District, Tai Chung Industrial District and Tung Luo Industrial District. Apart from all these industrial districts, National Tsing Hua University already has very strong research sources, achievements and work teams of Science, Engineering, Life Science, Humanities & Social Science and Technology Management. The key direction of this program is twofold: One is to combine technology talents and resources within the school; the other is to take the hi-tech industrial companies next to National Tsing Hua University as training places for students.

The plan of this program is to follow certain directions as the intention of development of IMPISA. The directions are as follows:

1. Train innovative information technology personnel. The courses will focus on the three major fields:

(1) Data Science

We are looking for students from different domain knowledge, such as electrical engineering, education, business management, humanities & social sciences, and medicine. Under the cross-scope and multi-cultural environments plus the lectures and advising from our professors who are specialized in data mining, machine learning, artificial intelligence, natural language, and big data analysis, IMPISA is a perfect place to train outstanding data scientists.

(2) Creative Multimedia

IMPISA has lots of experiences in creative multimedia and have obtained some distinguished and breakthroughs in recent years. In this group, we are focusing on combining information system with other knowledges, such as Wireless Multimedia Networking Technologies and Computer Vision for Visual Effects to name a few.

(3) Human-centered Interaction and User Experience

Consist topics related to intelligent human computer interface, natural language, learning technology and information media. Based on the four topics, we also extend our research to game programming, user experience, social computing, intelligent agents, MOOCs, E-learning and so on and so forth.

2. Encourage foreign students to take relevant culture courses to learn within a multi-cultural environment.
3. Provide students to have opportunities to visit local technology industries in order to understand Taiwanese industry.
4. Assist students to participate in research projects from high-tech companies.

Program Plan

1. Graduate credits will be 24 credits, plus 4 credits for thesis; altogether there will be 28 credits.
2. There will be two pre-courses, which shall not be counted into the graduate credit, including Computer Programming and Data Structure. Basically, these two courses are prerequisite to apply for this program.
3. IMPISA program will require two years for a student to graduate.

▲ ENTRY REQUIREMENTS

1. Completion of a four-year bachelor's degree or its equivalent.
2. Minimum TOEFL score of 550 (paper-based test)/215 (computer-based test)/80 (internet-based test) or TOEIC score of 750 is preferable, or another certificate of English proficiency for international applicants whose native language is not English

International Master's Program in Aquaculture Technology and Management

▲ ABOUT THE PROGRAM

National Taiwan Ocean University is recruiting foreign applicants from aquaculture, life sciences, biochemistry or related field for the Master of Science (M.S.) program. The objective of the program is to train and cultivate foreign students to be specialists in the fields list below.

The courses of the program contain six major research areas, 1) aquaculture and environment, 2) aquatic biology, 3) nutrition of aquatic feed and live feed, 4) fish pathology and immunology, 5) management and system analysis, and 6) molecular biotechnology.

▲ ENTRY REQUIREMENTS

Foreign students majored in the fields related to those listed above graduated with bachelor degree from any national or registered private universities and independent colleges in R.O.C. (Taiwan), or foreign universities and independent colleges having been accredited by the R.O.C. (Taiwan) Ministry of Education.

Acceptable equivalency in fields should be determined by the Director of the Department of Aquaculture.

International Master Program for Environment Sustainable Development

▲ ABOUT THE PROGRAM

This program aims to nurture expertise in sustainable development among the next generation of professionals working in technology and management as well as to promote the international cooperation. The program is divided into three areas: Energy Technology and Policy, Environmental Technology and Geographic Information System (GIS) and Remote Sensing.

A minimum of 34 credits is required for graduation. Students will receive a 'Master of Science' degree from the International Master's Program in Environment Sustainable Development, College of Engineering, after completing their studies.

▲ ENTRY REQUIREMENTS

1. Applicants must hold a bachelor's degree in fields related to engineering and science (such as environmental, mechanical, civil, electrical/electronics, industrial, energy, chemical/chemistry, physics, mathematics, etc.) at universities/colleges approved by the Taiwan Ministry of Education.
2. English proficiency test such as TOEFL or IELTS. Native English-speakers do not need to submit TOEFL or other evidence of English proficiency examination.

▲ HOW TO APPLY

1. Please visit the Admissions: <http://admissions.oia.ncu.edu.tw/>

International Master's Program in Electric Power Engineering (IMEPE)

▲ ABOUT THE PROGRAM

International Master's Program in Electric Power Engineering (IMEPE) specializes in electric power engineering, including electric machine drives, power systems and power electronics, networks and controls. The objectives of IMEPE are:

1. Assisting international students in developing advanced electric power engineering capacities.
2. Promoting professional exchanges among international experts in electric power engineering.
3. Enhancing the electric power engineering design and analytical capabilities of diplomatic allies.

Academic Requirement: Students enrolled in this program are required to complete twenty-four (24) units of academic courses having three (3) units each. Four (4) of these courses shall be taken from the core courses specifically designed for this program. Students need to seek the advice of his faculty adviser to help him design his academic loading. With the approval of the program director, the remaining four (4) courses can be taken at the students' liberty from any of the Engineering courses available. The eight (8) specifically designed courses for this program are:

1. Advanced Electric Machinery Theory
2. Finite Element Analysis of Electric Machinery Systems
3. Linear System Analysis
4. Load Flow Analysis
5. Optimal Control
6. Power Electronics Converter
7. Power Quality
8. Power System Operations

Thesis Requirement: A Master's thesis in the field of electric power engineering is a strong requisite for graduation. Students enrolled in this program are required to submit and defend his/her thesis to a panel of 3-5 committee members. The topic of the thesis should be related to his/her specialties and meet the need of the industrial development of the student's country.

▲ ENTRY REQUIREMENTS

Applicants must hold a bachelor's degree in fields related to electrical/electronic engineering at universities/colleges approved by the Taiwan Ministry of Education.

Ming Chuan University

Undergraduate Program in Journalism and Mass Communication

▲ ABOUT THE PROGRAM

Journalism and Mass Communication (JMC) provides an English teaching and learning environment. Also, JMC is a globalized program in regard to course content, sources of teachers, internship institutions and future employment. As part of International College, JMC not only recruits students with superior English ability, but also multilingual students from all around the world. We also provide multilingual projects to give our students more practical opportunities. In the future, one of our goals is to cultivate professional foreign language emcees. For furthering their studies, JMC students can also apply to New Media and Communication Administration Program to study at Ming Chuan University-Michigan Location.

Our mission is to develop responsible professionals with academic knowledge, practical abilities, and people skills to serve international communities by means of journalism and mass communication.

We aim to provide students with a comprehensive learning environment to develop responsible professionals by promoting honesty and integrity. Our aim is to educate students with academic knowledge and practical abilities to adapt to and excel in the ever-changing media landscape. JMC program helps students to cultivate communication capabilities and people skills for better mutual understanding and interpersonal relationships, and inspires students to care for and better serve the well-being of the international society.

Through JMC courses, students will understand basic principles of journalism and mass communication, comprehend the responsibilities and ethics of journalists, and employ advanced technologies to carry out professional duties and master useful communication techniques for mass media.

In Journalism and Mass Communication, both theory and practice are important. Therefore, we not only provide comprehensive courses, but also organize practically-oriented media courses and well-organized internship programs to cultivate students' abilities through hands-on experiences in people skills and media operations.

National Chung Cheng University

Master in Educational Leadership and Management Development

▲ ABOUT THE PROGRAM

The International Master Program in Educational Leadership and Management Development (ELMD) is a full English program at National Chung Cheng University (CCU), mainly contributed by the academic staff from the Graduate Institute of Education, the Department of Adult and Continuing Education and the Center for Teacher Education. Our faculty members are not merely experienced teachers but also experts in research and educational practices, particularly on the trends and issues in the fields of Educational Leadership, Management and Development.

To promote high-quality pursuit of profound knowledge and to respond enthusiastically to the overwhelming global trends form the solid basis of the Program. With a Master degree in Education, our graduates are expected to find successful employment as an education practitioner in an educational system, a manager working in the public sector or a private learning organization, or as a researcher contributing to the academia.

We aim to offer a holistic educational experience in Taiwan. Your experience would be a journey of gaining knowledge and skills, expanding your qualifications, and building your international connection as a professional. Our two-year program is structured into compulsory and elective courses, personal/group assignments, and research. By engaging in these activities, you are encouraged to explore educational issues in Taiwan as well as in the global context.

I-Shou University

School of Medicine for International Students

▲ ABOUT THE PROGRAM

The School of Medicine for International Students is a newly established four-year M.D. program (taught in English for Bachelor's degree) in compliance with the government policy that aims to cultivate passionate and devoted international medical professionals for countries that have a diplomatic relationship with Taiwan. Students are conferred only a Bachelor's diploma in English upon graduation and must return to their home countries after graduation, and students are not allowed to take the medical licensing examination or to conduct medical practice in Taiwan.

▲ ENTRY REQUIREMENTS

1. Applicants who have a bachelor's degree or above conferred by a local or foreign university recognized by the R.O.C. Ministry of Education may apply for admission; those who have studied at the School of Medicine, Dentistry or Chinese Medicine for four years or more may apply with credentials of an equivalent education level. The original diploma (or academic credentials) verified by the local R.O.C. diplomatic mission must be submitted upon registration and enrollment (if the diploma (or academic credentials) is in a language other than Chinese or English, a Chinese or English translation verified by the local R.O.C. diplomatic mission or a registered translation agency is required); otherwise, an applicant will be considered disqualified and denied admission.
2. Pursuant to Paragraph 1 of Article 2 in the MOE Regulations Regarding International Students Undertaking Studies in Taiwan, applicants who have a foreign nationality, have never had the nationality of the Republic of China* ("R.O.C."), and do not have an overseas Chinese student status at the time of application may apply for admission.
3. Any matter not mentioned herein should be subject to the MOE Program of Assisting Countries with Diplomatic Relations in Cultivating Medical Talents, the MOE Regulations Regarding International Students Undertaking Studies in Taiwan, and the MOE Regulations Governing the Assessment and Recognition of Foreign Academic Records by Institutions of Higher Education.
